Mrs. Warriner Learns Cancer Drive Continued, TV Benefit Is Arranged

With Antioch having oversubscribed its goal of $250 by 279 per cent in the Cancer fund drive, Mrs. Winsor Warriner, chairman, considered the campaign ended last week and told her friends so.

This week she learned that the campaign has been extended to May 31 because some suburban villages have not met their quota.

The "News Flash" of the Illinois division of the American Cancer society lists Antioch second instead of first in the suburban division, Roselle, known as the North DuPage chapter having gone over the top 300 per cent.

Now Mrs. Warriner is asking Antioch people who have not subscribed or who wish to subscribe more to come to her aid in putting Antioch again at the top.

The campaign absolutely will close May 31, it is said.

High School District to Vote On Building, Bonds Tuesday

Editorial

Antioch and Lake Villa township residents should have a clear idea of what they are voting for when they go to the polls Tuesday to approve or disapprove a $700,000 bond issue providing for an addition to the Antioch Township High school.

Members of the board of education are to be commended for the detailed manner in which they have presented future needs of the school. Their anticipation of these needs shows that they are in close touch with both enrollment and scholastic trends. Their work has been systematic and with great understanding of the future problems of the school.

This school district is experiencing a problem common to all high schools in Lake county. Wauconda responded with a 4 to 1 vote last week in favoring a bond issue for its high school addition.

Whatever the voters decide to do Tuesday will be with a thorough knowledge of the situation that confronts them.

By motion pictures and a talk by Director Cooney the teachers were acquainted with the problems of conserving natural resources, and were told that their influence in molding opinion along conservation lines will be effective.

After a luncheon the teachers were taken on an hour's boat trip and then returned to the camp where they were taught fly and bait casting.

Others attending from Antioch were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whitacre and Mrs. Lucy Himens.

Mrs. Ranney will serve as delegate from Antioch to the N. E. A. convention at St. Louis this summer.

Everybody's Fight

The president of a retail association which has a membership of thousands of stores of various kinds and sizes, recently spoke on "Retailing Today and Tomorrow." In one section he said "Today, retailers must fight for the retention of our American way of life. For the right to do business in the free and open competitive market under a good honest code of ethics."

"Today, retailers must continue to support that great American combination of free production and free distribution which has resulted in the basic principle of producing and selling more for less. . . . We have the production, if the Federal government will let it alone. We have the distribution outlets, and we are in a position to do a good job if we are not strangled to death by too much regulation."

It is certainly true that retailers have everything to gain in the fight for preservation of the free market. And the battle is not only in their own interest, but in the interest of consumers. The retail store has accurately been described as the show window of America. That term covers much more than just a display of merchandise for sale. It is symbolic of our productivity, our living standards and our abundance.

The merchant's job isn't finished when he stocks the goods that his customers want and makes his sales. A big part of that job lies in defending the principles and the system under which he lives and prospers.

The FBI's Confidential Files

The question of whether or not the confidential files of the FBI should be opened, in order to affirm or refute current charges that certain men high in the government are Communist stooges, has been much in the headlines. To many, it may seem a reasonable procedure. But the Bureau's director, J. Edgar Hoover, sees the matter differently. And his twofold reason for opposing opening of the files is of the highest importance.

First, opening the files would gravely damage the Bureau's future efforts in obtaining confidential information, by disclosing the names of informants. Some of the witnesses whose testimony led to the conviction of the 11 Communist leaders in New York had risked their lives as undercover employees of the FBI. In Mr. Hoover's words, "A disclosure of FBI reports would reveal the identity of confidential sources of information and, if it did not place the lives of such persons in actual jeopardy, it would certainly ruin their future value and effectiveness." And, moreover, criminals and subversives would be forewarned and would conduct themselves accordingly.

Second, opening the files could do the most serious and unwarranted injustice to individuals. The files contain complaints and allegations—not only facts—which may or may not be true. Mr. Hoover compared them to the notes of a newspaper reporter before he has culled printable from the unprintable. Then he said, "I would not want to be a party to any action which would 'smear' innocent individuals for the rest of their lives."

Mr. Hoover makes it plain that opening these files could very well both endanger the national security and commit profound injustices on good citizens.

Four-H Members Take Part In Many Activities, Says Farm Adviser Ray Nicholas

Maybe you have been thinking that the only thing 4-H Club members do is work on their projects—like beef, swine and poultry for the boys and clothing and cooking for the girls.

That isn't true, says Farm and Home Adviser Ray T. Nicholas and Helen Volk. Working on their projects occupies only part of their time. The rest of their 4-H training comes from their regular club meetings and many other activities which have been organized for them.

Some activities which the 600 Lake County 4-H Clubbers will be taking part in this year include health, safety, fire prevention, judging, demonstrations and camping. Besides that, the advisers point out, the youngsters learn how to get along with each other through their group gatherings.

Although the boys and girls are not entered in the same type of competition in these activities as in their project work, they are still a vital part of the training program. When state outstanding members are picked each fall, part of the decision is based on participation in these activities.

Special emphasis is placed on the health activity in 4-H Club work. Health is one of the four "H's" and club work includes lots of training in how to get and keep good health.

Home Economics clubs, for instance, have five different parts to the health activity, and they take up one of these parts each year. In 1950, the home economics girls will be studying the care of their feet.

The other four parts are posture, teeth, good grooming, and first aid. In agricultural 4-H Clubs, the members have keeping-fit and first aid activities. Greatest emphasis is placed on the keeping-fit activity. In it 4-H'ers study about physical fitness, try to improve their own fitness through regular exercise and measure their improvement.

Both agricultural and home economics 4-H Club members may study safety and fire prevention. Their safety manual is called "It Could Happen to You," and their fire prevention manual is called "Help Fight Fire."

In the field of farm safety, the 4-H'ers study safe methods and practices in the farm house, in farm buildings and around the farmyard, in farm transportation and how to be better drivers; they learn safety around farm machinery, and around animals. They learn how to stop fires before they begin around the homes and in farm buildings.

These activities are worked into the 4-H program on both an individual and group basis, the advisers said. Lake County 4-H'ers are busy youngsters. If you don't believe it, keep an eye open this summer and you will see plenty of evidence in your own community.

SHORT STORY

Acting On Impulse

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

"IT'S ABOUT TIME," said Uncle Ralph, "that you, my dear Constance, were married. You're nearly 25, which is the verge of the ineligible age. Don't let popularity turn your head, my dear, it won't last forever."

One of these days you'll find yourself seeking a man, instead of being sought after. And that," Uncle Ralph added, "often means disaster."

Connie Brigham wrinkled her cute little turned-up nose, closed one eye and stared soberly at Uncle Ralph with the other. Uncle Ralph cleared his throat and began to let his gaze wander about the room. He felt guilty.

"Which," said Connie, with the slightest of twinkles, "is a polite way of suggesting that I accept Bob Merrill, and forget all about Don Baxter. She stood up and refused Uncle Ralph's hair, an act which he resented delightfully. And Connie went on: "Uncle Ralph, just why is it that you dislike Don so much? I think he's fascinating."

Uncle Ralph snorted. "Donald Baxter," he said, "is not a fit young man to become the husband of any girl. He's flighty, unreliable, impulsive, and out of a job. You never can tell what he's going to do next."

"He's romantic," said Connie. "He's after your money," said Uncle Ralph.

"And he's so good looking," said Connie.

Uncle Ralph coughed. "On the other hand, Bob Merrill is dependable, honorable, manly, steady. You can count upon him to make you a good husband."

"That's just the trouble," said Connie.

"What's just the trouble?" said Uncle Ralph.

"He's steady and dependable. So easy to read. Life with Bob would be safe, yes, but it would also be monotonous."

Despite his outward jovialness while conversing with Connie, Uncle Ralph was worried.

I wish, thought Uncle Ralph, I only wish something would happen to open her eyes. Drat that Don Baxter, you never could tell what he'd do next.

Two days later Uncle Ralph had come no nearer to solving the problem.

"I can never marry Bob, Uncle Ralph."

He had considered every possible plan to make Connie see the light, and discarded them all. In the end he reluctantly decided to interview Connie again, offer one final paternal plea.

WITH THIS in mind Uncle Ralph rose from the veranda chair in which he was sitting, only to see Connie coming slowly up the walk. He sat down again, and picked up his newspaper. Connie came on, doleful and sorrowful of expression. She sighted Uncle Ralph, stopped and smiled whimsically.

"I guess you were right," she said.

"About what?" asked Uncle Ralph.

"Don."

"Don? How was I right about Don?"

"About never knowing what he's going to do next."

"What's he done, now?"

"He's married. Decided to last night about 6 o'clock. At 6:30 he was a married man."

"Oh, hum," said Uncle Ralph. He was not one to gloat, hence suppressed his delight with a masterful effort. He merely said mildly, "Well, that's that. Sort of turned out like I said it would. Well, you'll be happier with Bob. He's a man in a million."

Connie shook her head. "I can never marry Bob, Uncle Ralph. That's what makes me feel so bad."

"Tsk, tsck. That's no way to talk. You'll get over Don soon enough. Bet a thousand the girl he married isn't worth one-tenth of you."

"Yes," said Connie, "she's worth all of me. I'm the girl Don married."

Cat 'Screened' in Washer

PARIS, ILL.—Larry Tisdale's cat is all washed up as a star in a make-believe television animal act.

Tisdale's young sons, Barry, 9, and Gregory, 2, wanted to play television. They decided upon an animal act.

So, they put their cat into their laundering machine and pretended they were watching an animal act, with the machine's glass door serving as the "television screen."

Finally, however, they got tired of the show and went away, leaving the cat in the machine. Soon, Mrs. Tisdale dumped a load of clothes into the machine and turned the switch.

Some moments and many yowls later she rescued a dizzy and extremely wet cat.

Story of Pied Piper Takes New Direction In Rat-Plagued City

HAMMELIN, GERMANY — The story of Pied Piper is taking a new twist.

The city fathers of this town are looking for another Pied Piper, all right, because the town, which is the site of many grain mills, is infested with rats and mice. Some officials contend that Hammelin has more rats per capita than any other German city.

Rodent extermination is being carried out by the latest modern methods, but health authorities say no decrease in the rat population is noticeable.

According to ancient legend, a Pied Piper (pied means many colored) appeared in Hammelin one day in the year 1284 and offered to rid the city of its rat plague. He was hired and walked through Hammelin tooting his flute. All the rats and mice followed him, and drowned in the River Weser.

But, the legend says, the town refused to pay the piper his agreed reward so he piped all Hammelin's children—numbering 130—out of the city in the same way and all were lost, except two—one blind, the other lame. Every summer the fairy tale is re-enacted here down to the last detail.

Now, if you think you can rid Hammelin of its rodent population, with a pipe or by any other means, you will be accepted with open arms in Hammelin—if your scheme works.

You will be expected, however, to leave the children. There are more of them now.

Expert Claims Springtime Birds Sing War, Not Love

ATHENS, GA.—Day by day more and more beliefs of mankind are debunked—the latest being the poetical whimsy that in the springtime birds sing of love.

According to the University of Georgia bird expert, they do nothing of the kind. When birds sing in the springtime, Dr. Eugene P. Odum says, they are not warbling love songs or mating calls. Instead, they are voicing the trill calls of male birds "staking" out territorial claims, warning other male birds of their species not to "muscle in"—or else.

Dr. Odum says the first couple of weeks of spring in northern zones are pretty much a man's world as far as birds are concerned. Males of many species have no females to call at this point. The girls are still vacationing in the South, Dr. Odum explains in this way:

Of the species that migrate South for the winter—including certain thrushes, swallows and warblers—the males head back North in the spring a couple of weeks ahead of the females. Springtime is nesting time and the girls arrive.

"The males are the pioneers," Dr. Odum says. "Each bird picks out a territory when he reaches northern ground, ranging anywhere from a half acre to ten acres, according to his living habits."

"Then he sings vigorously for a couple of weeks to proclaim to others of his species that he has staked out his claim and will brook no trespassing. This is to insure reproductive isolation during nesting time and also to cut down on competition for food. A bird isn't concerned if birds of other species are on the same territory—he's worried only about trespassing by birds of his own kind."

Young Doctor to Take Charge of Leper Colony

WASHINGTON. — A 30-year-old doctor is going to the Pacific island of Tinian at his own request to take charge of the leper colony there. His wife and their two children are going with him.

Announcing this, the department said the doctor, Lt. Gordon C. McNelly, will run the leprosy ward which serves all U.S. trusteeship Pacific islands. Born in Chicago, Dr. McNelly spent much of his Santa Rosa, Calif., where he has been serving at Sonoma county hospital.

Dr. McNelly, a reserve medical officer, is returning to active duty for the assignment.

Arlington Farms Polo Season to Open May 28; Picnic Facilities Added

Preparation for the greatest season in Lake county's polo history are now nearing completion at Arlington Farms, Buckley rd., north of Libertyville, home of the International Polo League champions for the past two years.

Len Bernard, president of Arlington Farms and playing captain of their powerful quartet, announced today that the season will open at Arlington Farms, Sunday, May 28, with a second game scheduled for Memorial Day, Tuesday, May 30.

Some of the game's greatest stars will appear at Arlington Farms during the coming season with such great polo teams as Blind Brook of New Jersey, the New York A. C., Texas Ranchers, Miami, Detroit Gold Hats, Milwaukee, Waukegan, and the league champions.

Exhibition games are being arranged with the University of Miami Hurricanes, three time intercollegiate champions and the powerful West Point team.

An added attraction at the beautiful Arlington Farms polo plant will be a large picnic area being laid out between the stands and the Des Plaines river.

Facilities for club, lodge and plant picnics will be provided with the ground charge including the price of admission to the polo games.

A pony ring for the youngsters will be added to the facilities this year to stimulate interest in the game.

Sequoits Lose Games To Northbrook 5 to 2, And Wauconda 5 to 3

Antioch High school lost two well-played ball games during the past week.

The Sequoits dropped a game to Northbrook there by a score of 5 to 2 Friday and returned home to lose on Tuesday evening to Wauconda 5 to 3.

The heavy hitting of Noland and Anderson accounted for the Wauconda victory. The visitors got to Pregrenzer's offerings early and on three hits scored three runs in the first inning.

Antioch scored one in the second on a walk and a triple by Luckel, and another in the third on Appanaitis single, his stolen base and a single by Pregrenzer.

Wauconda came back in the sixth to score two more runs on two hits and the scoring ended for both sides when in the seventh the home team tallied one on Haling's walk and steal of second, and Buzz Haviland's double.

A game with Palatine there Tuesday is the next scheduled contest.

Royer Found Not Guilty

A jury in the Lake county circuit court returned a verdict of not guilty in the suit for $10,000 brought by Mrs. Lilly Wahlquist against Frank Royer, Channel Lake.

Mrs. Wahlquist alleged that Royer hurled her to the ground while she was crossing his field on her way to a grocery store. She said the attack was unprovoked and Royer used violent language. The jury took three hours to decide for Royer.

ASSIST IN PRESENTING GIFTS TO VETERANS

Mrs. Myra Randall, president of Sequoit Unit V. F. W., Mrs. William Hallwas, Mrs. Laura Swanson, unit hospital chairman and Mrs. Mary Koehler assisted members from the Smith-Spaul Post and Unit, Waukegan, distributing candy and cigarettes to the patients at Downey hospital on Mother's Day.

In the afternoon the party went on a tour of the buildings on the Downey side, they were impressed by the various trades the veterans have an opportunity to learn.

Refreshments were served in Building 4, by members of the 10th District American Legion Auxiliary.

Mary Kies, of Killingly, Conn., received the first patent granted to a woman, in May, 1809. It was for "a new and useful improvement in weaving straw with silk or thread."

SURPRISE COMING

'Magnetism' Catches Fish

WASHINGTON.—A powerful, Svengali-like force soon may be invading the unsuspecting world of fish.

This "force" is reportedly capable of attracting and compelling the choicest fish in the sea to swim docilely into man's waiting net.

In the past, fish always have had some chance of escaping even the most efficient fishing equipment, notes the National Geographic Society. Now, however, a German scientist, Dr. Konrad Kreutzer, is perfecting an electrical fishing device which he claims can "magnetize" a field of water and bring into the net all the best fish within the area.

Electrode Used

An electrode attached to the net is supposed to head the fish magically in its direction by emitting a positive electric current. Moved by the pulsing electric shocks, the tails of the fish paddle the unwilling bodies into the waiting trap.

The inventor, it is said, may well revolutionize commercial fishing and make possible better world utilization of world fishery resources.

An estimated 90 per cent of the German fish catch, for example, is too small for commercial use. Though the undersized fish are tossed back into the sea, too many die or are fatally injured during the catching process. With successful electrical fishing only the large, commercially important fish would be caught.

This is managed, theoretically, by synchronizing the rapidity of electrical shocks with the normal tail movement of the desired fish. A large, slow-moving fish, for example, would not require as frequent electrical shocks or pulses to be guided into the net as would a small, quick-moving fish.

Young Fish Protected

Not only frequency but the strength of the electrical current is a factor separating the catch of large fish from small ones. Big fish, experiments show, tap higher voltage than small ones and react quicker to electrical stimulus. Hence, by adjusting the strength and frequency of shock to big fish only, the young fish—potential food bank of the future—are protected and conserved by man as never before.

Experiments in electrical fishing began on inland waters in Germany in the middle twenties but successful use of the information secured was only occasional. After World War II electrical fishing was promoted by several technical improvements, but was still confined to small rivers with a water level of not more than six and a half feet.

Air-Conditioned Wardrobe Seen by Women for Males

NEW YORK, N. Y.—An air conditioned wardrobe of cool shirt jackets, starchless collars and featherweight shoes will be the theme of men's clothing of tomorrow, according to some of the leading women fashion designers.

Hattie Carnegie, Lillie Dache, Sophie and other top flight persons in the designer field, have advocated these, among other things:

Sheer lawn for shirts, neckerchiefs instead of collars and ties, comfortable cummerbunds instead of leather belts and bantam weight shoes.

Plaids and polka dots, is in his leisure clothes, whether to wear to the beach or for at home comfort after a hard working day. Further, soft pedaling these new ideas is the color range, limited to shades already acceptable to men. Beige, and creamy yellow to brown, tones of blue and navy and greens are colors used.

The collar of starch days does a willing act, sometimes disappearing entirely. A gaucho touch of a neckerchief tie to take the place of both collar and tie as worn today is Claire McCardell's idea for the men. She uses this on a beige linen shirt-jacket which is worn with the shirt tail out and acts like both a shirt and a jacket.

Another trick to tickle an Adam's apple fancy is Leslie Morris' evening suit. Again no jacket but a dark blue shirt worn with a dark ascot tied at the neck and tucked into a cummerbund at the waist. If the lady is dancing coolly in bare shoulders why should men be forced to wear not only a shirt but a vest and jacket?

Fabrics, aside from the sheer lawn shirts which Sophie introduces for dress wear, include linen, twill and gabardine in much lighter weights than usually meet a tailor's chalk line.

Mabel Julianelli provides "bantam weight" shoes for the cock of the walk. She modifies ordinary oxfords by cutting down their fronts to moccasin size, eliminating shoe laces. Then she peels off several layers of leather soles, stuffs heels with light weight cork and takes the wood out of the toes.

Board Seeks $700,000...

"It became necessary for us to establish a limit so that in event the cost went up, we would not have to vote again," he said.

Birkhead pointed to the fact that the average rate of interest for school money now is around 2 per cent.

"DeKalb's rate was as low as 1.5 per cent, Des Plaines was 1.69. Palatine paid 2.11 per cent and Wauconda, which contracted for the sale before the election and got extra services paid the maximum of 2.33 per cent," he said.

Antioch's bonds would be through competitive sealed bids.

The average yearly payment to retire the 20-year issue and pay interest based on an estimate of 2 per cent would be $43,812.

Expect 16 Cent Increase

The present assessed valuation of the Antioch High school district is $23,113,840. To produce the slightly lower figure of $41,783 from this valuation, a tax rate of 16 cents per $100 of assessed value would be required.

This rate of 16 cents added to the present tax rate of the Antioch High school would still leave this high school one of the lowest, if not the lowest, high school tax rate in Lake County, the board of education explained.

"If Antioch High school students over and above capacity of the present building must be sent to other high schools in Lake County and their tuition paid from tax money, it would require an expenditure of $700,000 in fewer than 10 years," Principal Birkhead said.

"By building an addition and operating its own school, Antioch High school can save enough money to pay for the addition and operating costs by 1963 rather than pay tuition to other high schools."

A large turnout of voters is expected Tuesday afternoon.

Gen. William H. Wilbur Announces Candidacy For Congressional Post

General William H. Wilbur of Highland Park yesterday announced his candidacy for Representative in Congress from the 13th Illinois District. His background includes a broad knowledge of world affairs, outstanding military service, and varied experience as an executive, the whole built on a foundation of rugged Americanism.

Born in western Massachusetts, he attended Haverford College, Penn., and was graduated from West Point. As a result of his military service, he has lived in all parts of the United States and has made extended visits to all the vital countries of the world. He moved to Highland Park in 1938 and has made his residence there since that time.

During World War II, he was in the forefront of the fighting war. He landed with the leading assault wave in Morocco on Nov. 8, 1942, participated in the fighting in Tunisia, landed with the assault waves at Salerno, Italy, and took part in much of the tough, gruelling fighting in Italy in 1943 and 1944. For his personal heroism in battle, he was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor as a result of the recommendation of General Patton. He was also promoted to the grade of Brigadier General, based on his battlefield performance and following General Patton's recommendation that he be so promoted.

He is an ardent admirer of Everett Dirksen and feels that Mr. Dirksen's election as Senator is the outstanding opportunity offered Illinois this year.

General Wilbur is active in Republican circles in Highland Park. He is a Vice-President of the Highland Park Men's Republican Club and carries the highest recommendation of that organization.

Naval Aviation Cadet Philip M. Burke, 22, son of Mrs. E. Fox, Box 115, Bristol, Wisconsin, graduated recently from the U. S. Naval Pre-Flight School at Pensacola, Florida. In addition to a thorough physical training program, the sixteen week course which Burke completed includes aeronautical and naval subjects aimed at preparing officer candidates for flight training and eventual commissioning as naval officers.

NavCad Burke was graduated from Antioch Township High school in 1947. He enlisted in the Navy and served for a period of two years attaining the rate of Third Class Petty Officer. He began his training under the Naval Aviation Cadet Program in January of this year and is now assigned to the U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Whiting Field, Milton, Florida, where he is engaged in primary flight training. Upon completion of training in Pensacola and Corpus Christi, Texas, he will be awarded the gold wings of a naval aviator and assigned to duty with the fleet.

Army Officer to Address Joint Meeting of Vets And Auxiliaries Tonight

J. N. VanCleave to Speak At 8th Grade Exercises

J. N. VanCleave, assistant to the county superintendent of schools, will be the speaker at the Eighth Grade commencement of Antioch and surrounding public schools Friday, May 26.

The service will be in the auditorium of the high school with the grade school band furnishing several selections.

Schools participating have not sent in their list of graduates as yet, Principal Richard Whitacre said.

Rapid Work on School

With better weather during the past week the work on the addition to the grade school has progressed rapidly. The brick on two walls of the auditorium-gymnasium is up several feet.

Again Petition Sheriff

The Rev. G. Richard Tuttle of the Antioch Methodist church and the Rev. L. H. Messersmith of the First Congregational church at Millburn are among 13 ministers who handed Sheriff Stanley M. Christian a signed statement urging continued efforts of his office in freeing the county of gambling devices. The same group acted in the same manner last fall just before the machines were taken out. The statement was believed to be a carefully couched warning against re-opening of slot machines for the summer.

Error in Report

Through a typographical error Antioch's gift in the March of Dimes campaign was made to read last week $213.30 when it should have been $2,133. This amount was a record for the community. The total collection for the county was $85,766.

Perpetual Care

At the start of World War I it was possible to purchase a headstone with perpetual care for about $100. Now the same thing costs about $500.

Parpanit

Parpanit, a relatively new synthetic drug, is aiding victims of Parkinson's disease, also called the shaking palsy.

Charity

Pie Hurled at Prof for $6

KALAMAZOO, MICH. — It might have been worth it when students here bought the services of their professors at Kalamazoo college in an auction which raised $700 for a campus charity and welfare fund.

For $9.75 Robert Plukethly, of Flint, got the privilege of having President John Scott Everton serve him breakfast in bed one morning.

Miss Barbary A. Bird, Greenville, paid $8 to throw three pies at her psychology professor, Dr. Donald Vanliere — but she missed all three shots.

A high bid of $35 by Anne Wakerman, of Grosse Pointe, got herself a curfew-free Saturday night — and Saturday she wanted it. "I'm going to save it," she said, "until some Saturday when my fiancé visits me."

Jack Barnes, of Erie, Pa., received a $3 shoe shine from his economics professor, Dr. Gabriel Cazell.

Women Seek to Join 25,000-Mile Journey Through Jungle Land

FORT WORTH, TEX. — Who said women are the weaker sex?

Dan Towns can advance written evidence that there is nothing at all in that old bromide.

Towns, a 25-year-old student at Texas Christian university, plans a 25,000-mile jeep expedition through South America.

Much of the estimated seven-month trip will take him through that country, but will also include the United States, into Alaska, and back again to the U.S. That means most of the trip will be through uncharted jungles in South America.

Towns wants a woman to join him and three other men on the jaunt. A woman on the trip, he explained, will make "the whole thing more dramatic; it will make the pictures we expect to take a lot more salable."

Since announcing his plans, Towns has received letters from a schoolteacher, a nurse, an air line stewardess, and a switchboard operator, to mention a few, all wanting to make the trip. They feel rugged enough.

The nurse from Johnstown, N.Y., wrote that "while a woman is very unusual for anyone to consider on an expedition's personnel list," she still would like to go. She delivered numerous babies as an army nurse on a South Pacific island, and "might do the same thing along the route of your expedition and make much good will for you."

The air line stewardess from State Center, Iowa, said her run took her from Dallas to New York, and every time she landed there she went around to the Explorers' club. For eight years, she said, she has always wanted to be a writer and explorer.

The woman will be selected by a special screening committee of the junior chamber of commerce.

The main qualifications are that she be a college graduate with an ability to write and the fortitude to endure such hardships as might be encountered on the trip. If she can drive a jeep and also cook, then so much the better, Towns said.

Inaccurate Measurements Plague to Home Cooking

NEW YORK. — According to home economic experts, housewives' chief troubles in turning up with flat cakes, porous muffins and other disagreeable kitchen results stem directly from improper measurements. And, they add, the measuring errors are not always the fault of the cook because some measuring devices aren't accurate.

Many of these instruments, despite clear markings and stamps, aren't all the readings say they are. And, the experts continue, it's a situation to investigate before complaining about the flour, other ingredients or the stove.

Not all kitchen measuring utensils are inaccurate. At least three manufacturers — two of aluminum and one of glass — make proud boasts of having correct measurements, clearly labeled.

The trouble is it's hard to tell when a measuring utensil is off. Recent informal tests of measuring cups showed some of them to be as much as one-third off, either over-size or on the skimpy side. Three out of four were inaccurate. Any of these faulty measures is capable of ruining any number of carefully compounded dishes.

Food manufacturers have been aware of this situation for a long time — and also of the housewife's habit of using any handy piece of flat silver to measure quantities. In an effort to make recipes foolproof, some concerns have been providing their own measures.

Manufacturers of unflavored gelatin usually package exact quantities of their product in individual envelopes. Each envelope is designed to be combined with a pint of water to make a gelatin food of the proper consistency. Of course, even this plan can be thrown out of gear if the water measure is too far out of line.

Red Mange

An old sheep remedy, phenothiazine and furacin, has been used effectively at the Cornell university agricultural experiment station in combating red mange in dogs.

Allendale Wins From Fox Lake and Gavin in 12-inch Soft Ball League

The Allendale softball team got off to a fast start last week by winning its first two scheduled games from the Fox Lake Grade school and the Gavin Grade school, all of which along with Lake Villa form the active members of the Northern Lake County Grade School Conference. Of the eight schools which composed and formed the conference during the passed basketball season only four found it convenient to compete during the spring in inter-school games.

Due to extremely cool weather the Allendale-Fox Lake game was called at the end of five innings of play with the Allendale boys coming out on top 14 to 5. Allendale had two big innings in which they scored a total of 12 runs while Fox Lake gathered two in the first, one in the third, and two in the fifth. John La Fontaine and Jack Leatham each had home runs for the Allendale Tigers. Bert Heuer was the winning pitcher.

The Allendale-Gavin game was played on the Gavin field, but the home environment didn't seem to have any useful effects for the Gavin team as they dropped the game 14 to 4. Bert Heuer won his second game of the year giving up only eight hits over the seven inning route. He proved very effective specially with men on base. Buscher was the losing pitcher giving up a total of 20 hits during the game.

good for the 14 runs Allendale scored. Both pitchers went all the way.

CUSTOMERS' CORNER

Since the anti-trust lawyers filed their suit to put A&P out of business, three interesting things have happened:

1. Many thousands of our customers have written letters expressing their opposition to this suit.
2. Public opinion polls reveal that most Americans are on our side.
3. Our business has increased. More people are shopping at A&P than ever before.

All these things indicate that our customers have confidence in the policies of fair, honest dealing which have guided this company for the past 90 years. We want to do everything we can to merit your continued support. Please send your suggestions for CUSTOMER RELATIONS DEPARTMENT, A&P Food Stores, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N.Y.

To assure you of top-quality, peak fresh fruits and vegetables of uniform size, check items that don't meet A&P's high standards and put them on a "Quick-Sale" table at reduced prices.
